“ We heard of Anne’s passing through Teresa, and my mom and I want to pass along our condolences. Mom was telling me many stories of the fun that she and my dad had with Anne and Joe. I also remember several visits my mom and dad made to Anne and Joe’s house in West Palm Beach with me in tow back when I was a teenager. My dad passed in 2009. My mom and I paid a visit to Anne just a few years ago, and it struck me how strong and full of life she was, even after having a close call herself in the years prior. That’s what I’ll always remember about Anne - a strong and caring person with a love of life and a sense of humor that endured. Though my mom and I are separated from her family by time and distance, please know that all of you that we had come to know are in our thoughts today. We are mostly remembering the many laughs and good times we had with Anne and Joe, and want to send along our condolences to all of you on her passing.

“ My deepest condolences to all of you on the passing of a great lady and my favorite cousin, Anne. She and my mom, Catherine Signore Rusbino (cousin Catherine), were more like sisters than cousins, as you know. Despite the ten year age difference, they were extremely close. Life was simpler then and, when you grow up living across the street from each other and spending summers together (thanks to your grandfather and the beach house!), you share a closeness that we have sadly lost, despite all the technology we have. As a child, Cousin Anne loved watching my mom apply her makeup before going out dancing. My mom and dad loved going out with Anne and Joe. I also remember all the fun visits to your house in Providence, and how kind your parents were when we stayed at their home in Florida. Most of all, I will never forget how Cousin Anne and Joe (and your late uncle, Peter) drove straight through from Florida to Rhode Island to be with my mom when my dad passed unexpectedly in 1982. Family meant everything to them...Cousin Anne (and Cousins Joe and Peter) will always be in my thoughts and prayers...

Love always,

Teresa Rusbino Odell

“ I would like to offer my sincere condolences to the friends and family. May God comfort you all and may you find solace in his promise to soon “swallow up death forever” and wipe away all our tears. Is 25:8
