“ Uncle Joel, your kindness was more profound than your immense unibrow. I'll miss your gruff/cheery "hey kid", your endless factoids, your air of loving exasperation toward my mom (aka brat, aka your little sis), and your tenderness and affection for us, your niece and nephews. You were, you are, one hell of a mensch. We love you and miss you, wherever you are.

“ Joel was a great person and always had a smile on his face or a joke to tell! I am deeply sorry to Mrs. Drucker, Mierka, Aldyn, Max, and the entire family for losing the Patriarch of the family. My condolences to you all and may Joel's memory continue to live on in all of your hearts. Love, Blanche Martin

“ Joel and I clicked when we first met while working at Pratt & Whitney. Even though he was older than me we shared a similar background, having both grown up in Brooklyn not that far from each other and attending the same college (Pratt Institute). I enjoyed many conversations about life and the old neighbor with him. He was a great friend and I will miss him very much.

“ May you find peace and comfort, joy and laughter in the legacy he leaves. Such a kind, loving, giving man. May his soul rest in peace. Love and hugs to Havela, Mierka, and family
