“ My deepest condolences to Luis' family. My name is Christopher Croney. I met "Felix" (as we called him at work) back in 1996 when we started working for Northwest Airlines. We got along well together. We even took a transfer to Minnesota, where myself Felix and another co-worker were roommates. Luis had a great sense of humor and we always joking around. He will be missed. RIP

“ Me voy con el viento vida mía, pero no hacía la nada.
 Y si este día no es la unión plena de nuestras almas y mi amor, que sea una promesa hasta que ese día llegue.
 Y como las estaciones del tiempo cambian, así mismo las del hombre; pero no su amor, ni que ese amor perdure en cada primavera.
 Has de saber, que desde el silencio más grande he de volver.
 Porque la niebla que se eleva en el alba, dejando solo el rocío sobre los campos, se eleva y se vuelve nube para caer después convertida en lluvia.
 Y no he sido diferente de la niebla.
 En la quietud de la noche siempre fuimos un eterno instante y los latidos de tu corazón estuvieron en el mío y tú aliento acarició mi cara.
 Y hoy mi espíritu se posa sobre tu alma.
 Y como disfrute de tu alegría hoy sé de tu dolor, y tus sueños florecerán en mis sueños.
 El silencio, que lleva todas las cosas hacia su seno, me llama y debo embarcarme.
 Porque quedarse, aunque las horas palpiten en la noche, es congelarse y cristalizarse y ser ceñido por un molde.
 Desearía llevar conmigo todo lo de aquí, ¿Pero cómo hacerlo?
 Una voz no puede llevarse la lengua y los labios que le dieran un sonido. Sola debe buscar el éter.
 Y sola, sin su nido, volará el Águila cruzando el sol.
 Dios ilumine tu viaje de regreso estimado hermano Luis Felix.

“ Luis quiero agradecerte por haber compartido tu ser con nosotros, por tu alegría, sabiduría, amor por la familia por aquellos viajes compartidos, aquellas comidas chaladas, aquellos chistes que siempre sacabas a las cosas, por tus consejos yo se que pasaste a una mejor vida y hoy donde estas se que te sientes orgulloso de todo lo que construiste tus hijos, esposa amigos pero lo que me queda es que supiste disfrutar, vivir ser tu mismo. Luis quiero despedirme y decirte que siempre estarás en mi corazón descansa en paz y tranquilo que en esta vida seguiremos en la lucha de que intentaremos dar lo mejor de nosotros mismos. Brille tu luz y encuentro con los ángeles y Dios amén.
