“ Our dear Uncle Richard was one of the finest people on the planet. Has was kind, intelligent, witty, generous and loving. He had a great sense of humor that he lovingly shared with both his great nieces, Brittany and Emily. He had a talent for antique restoration and preservation work. He had an advanced degree from the University of Fix-It, and would eagerly share his lifetime of experience whenever asked.

Our family is blessed for having him among us to encourage us, support us, advise and love us. His memory will live through generations to come.

We are comforted with the belief that he is catching up with lost friends and relatives and is embraced by the hands of The Almighty, who is welcoming one of His prized creations.

“ Richard and I got together at class reunions to have a drink before dinner. For the past couple years we have communicated through Facebook, Messenger and the phone. He had a cat and I have a dog, so we managed to talk about them. We both worked at Publix. I will miss our conversations. Love to Carole.

“ My brother-in-law Richard was a giving person. We all encounter occasional folks who seem to give us more than we are able to give them in return. For me, Richard was just such an individual. Whether it was providing a place to live when I was a high school senior or being such a great son-in-law to my parents when I was largely absent. Items large and small, Richard gave. I tried to say thanks on several occasions, but it is never enough, really. So one, last time - Thank you, Richard, Thank you.
